Research and Design Planning

Vit Prechtl - C00298335

Jeffrey Owusu – C00314408

Aleksejs Buciks – C00300235

Penpot Wireframes link:

Projects - Web Design Project - Penpot

Table of Contents

Research and Design Planning	1
Table of Contents	2
Topic and Selection Research	3
Audience and Context Research	16
Define Project Goals and Objectives	18
Develop Preliminary Designs	17

Topic and Selection Research

IDEA:

Online Streetwear Fashion Brand

GOAL:

- Encourage people to push through fear.
- Make problems look smaller than people feel they are.
- Feel connected.
- Inspire others.

Vans - Vans IE | Men's, Women's & Kids' Shoes, Clothes & Backpacks

	Pros	Cons
Usability	Going back and forward at checkout. All-important buttons have more visual weight. There is a loading preview after the user performs an action.	The payment process shows a tick even if the details are not correct. So, it does not guide them for a correct input. The error message shows at the top of the site and is out of screen, so the user
	Seach functionalities are pretty effective.	needs to scroll up to see it. The repeating hierarchy in each category is useless, because when a user tries go to "Men -> Premium & Collabs" it displays products for men, but also products for women such as skirts.
Responsiveness	The website response well to any size with the aspect ratio of 16:9 or 9:16.	The Categories are vertically aligned when the screen is adjusted which makes it harder to navigate because of lack of contrast. The text within categories overlaps. Aspect ratios that are outside of 16:9 and 9:16 make some content of the website disappear or inaccessible.

Accessibility	Website can be navigated using "Tab" key across all button elements	Tab key cannot navigate across checkbox elements, such as "acknowledgment of privacy policy."
Aesthetics	The visuals are clean and look professional without visual clutter. Colors, spacing and typography are consistent across all pages.
Content Quality	The headings are nice and readable. The language is extremely simple and clear. Delivering to users what they need to know. Plus, the content description is divided into dropdown sections making search across the site more efficient. The content is relevant to the target audience, which is streetwear lovers, skaters, and young adults. Multimedia elements are purposeful and	The subheadings are too small compared to the headings.

	complementary to
Interactivity	the content. Rectangle framed buttons change appearance when hovering over them. Text buttons get underlined when cursor hovers over them. Looking over the products is nice and interactive because of fade transition used when hovering over the product.	Buttons such as the shopping cart have no interactivity. A transition from color-to-color would benefit. Logo in the left corner that works as the "Home" button of the website have no interactivity. A transition or some effect would benefit.
	Elements such as the arrows to slide sideways across product, gray out if you're at the end of the section and are black if there is any content to go through.
Consistency	Colors, fonts, and design elements are consistent across all pages. Branding elements are displayed uniformly throughout the website.
	The website maintains consistency throughout pages in layout that are relevant to each other but is overall familiar across the entire website.

entire website.

Adidas - adidas Official Website IE | Sportswear

	Pros	Cons
Usability	Easy to find specific	The UI for logging in clothing i.e., men's	and asking for help golf clothes just	is in the corner of require hovering the	the website, the text men's section and	is small and doesn't look in the sports	make the text bold sub section to find	or anything to make
	it.	it stand out, making it hard to find on
	When adding an	first visit.
	item to the basket takes a while a	When clicking the loading wheel will	logo, it brings you to appear.	the home page and there is a loading
	An error message	bar shown in the appears on an item	form of the logo, but when the size of it	the loading was forgotten to be	animation is a light chosen.	shade of grey making it
	The search bar gives	indistinguishable
	extensive results for	from the white simple requests i.e.,	background.
	searching golf will give results for clubs, shoes, shirts,
	and bags.
Responsiveness	The website	Swapping between transforms well into	portrait and a 16:9 aspect ratio.	landscape mode on

	On mobile phones the website has three lines in the corner that represent the menu that pops from the side and covers the screen showing the product options. The size of the moving images on the site are adjusted for mobile accordingly.	mobile causes the design elements to be moved off screen. On mobile the login option is at the very bottom of the website. All buttons are non-responsive and are static when pressed.
Accessibility	Uses simple but effective black and white contrast. White background black text. Doesn't use any jargon and relies on simple one-to-	Does not have the design elements necessary to traverse the website comfortably using tab.
Aesthetics	three-word buttons. The entire website goes for a clean and sleek design, using white and black as its primary colors with yellow being used as the color for promotion and red the color of sales. White space is used to help products that have bright colors to stand out more.	The website has all its home page menu buttons in bold except for two of them which break consistency. The lack of colors in the design makes the website feel bland with nothing especially leading the eye towards a goal.

	The typography stays consistent through all the pages. The website has high quality multimedia images of multiple of their products in use by models and items like shoes by themselves on natural backgrounds like concrete.
Content Quality	Upon hovering the mouse over a main heading for an item, there will be a dropdown menu with extensive subheadings that'll lead the customer to their desired item.	The headings for promotion of its membership system are too small.
	Language is simple and avoids any technical jargon. Promotes what it is known for. Contains video media of the item, showing its quality Interactivity	in action. Hovering over images of models wearing sets of products makes the image enlarge and	The website lacks animation or transitions making it feel stagnant.

	the model change poses.
	Zoom in and moving around the product is available.
	In the orders and returns section, the site asks what the customer wants and has a form that is filled black when filled, guiding the user that their option was picked.
Consistency	Throughout all	On the home page
Consistency	pages the website never strays from its design philosophy of white background, black text, yellow for enticing you to sign up to your memberships and red meaning there is a sale on the item. Staying consistent in its design.	on the nome page some headings are chosen to be bolded over others without a clear reasoning or pattern.
	page it is the Adidas logo will always be in the top left corner of the site, allowing a way back to the main page no matter where the user is.

	Pros	Cons
Usability	The bathing ape website has a clear and organized structure, with menus that allow users to navigate various products and collections on the website. The photos are high quality with detailed information of the products which enhance the users' shopping experience.	With all the animations and graphics on the website the internet connection could affect the user's experience depending on their device.
Responsiveness	When the mouse hovers on the image of the product it transitions to a different angle. The website responds well with a 16:9 ratio. The buttons are responsive on mobile, and you can also swipe to navigate the images	When the mobile screen swaps to landscape mode some elements on the website do not appear on the screen, most of the images and text look smaller
Accessibility	Bape offers customer support via phone and email to assist users with any type of accessibility issues Bape commits to continue enhancing the accessibility and usability of the website	The font sizes on the website are not readable
Aesthetics	The bape website has a cool street	Despite being responsive, the aesthetic with a minimalistic design. The website displays some high-quality images and vibrant colors making it easy for users to navigate different categories. The main colors on the website are black and white	intricate designs might not always translate perfectly to mobile devices, affecting usability on smaller screens.

Content Quality	The website contains a slideshow, displaying new and upcoming collections, with high quality images. The content feautred on the website is relevant to users who are interested in streetwear.
Interactivity	When you hover the mouse on the product it displays the back and the side view.
Consistency	The website has a consistent layout and color theme.

	Website 1	Website 2	Website 3
Features	It is a bit confusing and probably useless to have two repeating items in hierarchy of categories. The website uses graphic elements such as "checker pattern," since it characterizes the website and helps to contrast the layout elements. When a new window appears on the screen such as a category hierarchy menu or a shopping list from right, the rest of the website/backgroun d transitions into a tinted black overlay to create more contrast for the content user is viewing.	Uses yellow to attract the customer's eye to join their membership program. Uses red to show which items are discounted.

	Vans	Adidas	Bathing Ape
Usability	The checkout has	The website makes	The BAPE website is easy navigation and	it easy to find items	well-structured,
	useful features, but	and provides helpful	featuring easy
	it has issues with	error messages, but	navigation, high-incorrect payment	the login and help	quality photos, and confirmations, hard-	options are hard to	detailed product to-find error	spot, and the logo's	information for an messages, and	loading animation	enhanced shopping experience.

	confusing product categories.	blends into the background.
Responsiveness	The website adjusts well to 16:9 and 9:16 aspect ratios but faces issues with hard-to-navigate categories, overlapping text, and inaccessible content on other aspect ratios.	The website adapts well to a 16:9 aspect ratio and mobile but switching between portrait and landscape mode on mobile causes layout issues, the login is placed at the bottom, and buttons are unresponsive.	The website features hover image transitions, adapts well to a 16:9 ratio, and supports responsive buttons and swipe navigation on mobile. However, in landscape mode, some elements disappear, and images and text appear smaller.
Accessibility	The website is navigable using the "Tab" key for buttons, but it doesn't work for checkbox elements like the "acknowledgment of privacy policy."	The website uses a simple black-and-white contrast with clear, concise buttons but lacks the necessary design elements for easy navigation via the tab key.	BAPE provides customer support via phone and email for accessibility issues and is committed to improving website usability. However, the font sizes on the site are not easily readable.
Aesthetics	The website has a clean, professional design with consistent colors, spacing, and typography across all pages.	The website features a sleek black-and-white design with yellow for promotions and red for sales, uses white space to highlight colorful products and content, maintains consistent typography, showcases high-quality multimedia, but breaks consistency with two unbolded menu	The BAPE website features a cool street aesthetic with a minimalist design, high-quality images, and vibrant colors. It's easy to navigate with black and white as the main colors. However, some intricate designs may not display perfectly on mobile devices, impacting usability on smaller screens.

	Ī	harakana an 16 d
		buttons and feels bland due to the lack of color guiding the user's focus.
Content Quality	The website	The website	The website features clear,	features easy-to-	features a simple language,	navigate drop-down	slideshow relevant content for	menus, simple	showcasing new its target audience,	language,	and upcoming and purposeful	promotional	collections with multimedia, but the	content showcasing	high-quality images, subheadings are too	its strengths, and	offering content small compared to	videos highlighting	relevant to the headings.	item quality, though	streetwear
		the membership	enthusiasts.
		promotion headings are too small.
Interactivity	The website	The website allows	Hovering over the features interactive	users to zoom in on	product shows the buttons and product	products and	back and side views
	hover effects, but	interact with images	of the product.
	elements like the	of models, provides shopping cart and	a clear interactive logo lack	form for orders and interactivity and	returns, but lacks could benefit from	animations or transitions or	transitions, making effects.	it feel stagnant.
Consistency	The website	The website has a	The website has a maintains	consistent design	consistent layout
	consistent colors,	with a white	and color theme.
	fonts, design	background, black elements, and	text, yellow sign-up branding across all	buttons, and red pages, creating a	sale indicators, and cohesive and	the Adidas logo is familiar layout.	always in the top Tarridar tayout.	left, but some headings on the homepage are inconsistently bolded.

Audience and Context Research

Audience:

• Demographics:

o Age: 12 - 45

o Occupation: Any

o Education level: Any

o Religion: Any

• Preferences:

Design styles:

- Streetwear
- Minimalist

Preferred features in fashion:

- Versatility
- Comfort
- Encouraging
- Statement pieces

Content interests:

- Art
- Philosophy
- Minimalism
- History

Goals

- o Find products quickly and easily
- Compare prices
- Make secure purchases
- o Learn about the product origin and details
- o Discover new styles and trends
- Style inspiration
- o Learn about the brand
- Sign up for Newsletters
- o Customer support
- o Access reviews and social proof

Persona Example 1:

Name: Boris Ivanov, 38, Engineer

Frustrations: Overthinking

Goal: Have a simplified view on complex problems

Journey:

Awareness - Boris often overthinks and struggles with complex decisions. One day, he sees an ad about a fashion brand promoting simplicity and clarity in life. The message resonates.

Consideration - Curious, Boris visits the website and explores its philosophy. He finds stories, minimalistic designs, and messaging that align with his desire for a clearer mindset.

Decision - Boris reads reviews, watches testimonials, and feels a connection to the brand. He decides to buy a piece that symbolizes his commitment to a simpler perspective.

Action - He makes the purchase. The product arrives with a thoughtful message reinforcing the brand's philosophy. The unboxing experience feels meaningful.

Post-Action - Wearing the item reminds Boris to embrace simplicity daily. He shares his experience online, follows the brand, and integrates its mindset into his life. Over time, he becomes a loyal customer.

Persona Example 2:

Name: Octavio Alejandro, 26, Teacher

Frustrations: Tired of the mundane life without vision in himself.

Motivations: Have an external reminder to push him to experiment.

Goal: Work more on his personal growth.

- Awareness – Octavio feels stuck in a mundane life. He sees a fashion brand promoting vision and purpose.

- Consideration He visits the website, connects with its message, and sees fashion as a symbol of change.
- Decision Inspired by others' stories, he chooses a piece that represents his new mindset.
- Action He buys the item and receives a meaningful message with it, making the experience feel intentional.
- Post-Action Wearing it reminds him to seek purpose. He engages with the brand and embraces a new perspective.

Persona Example 3:

Name: Farid al-Malik, 16, Music Producer and Student

Frustrations: Forcing and feeling pushy about his results.

Goals: Discover new styles and trends

- Awareness Farid feels frustrated by forcing creativity and results. He comes across a fashion brand that encourages effortless self-expression.
- Consideration He explores the website and finds inspiration in its unique styles and fresh approach to fashion.
- Decision Drawn to the idea of discovering trends naturally, he selects a piece that resonates with his evolving style.
- Action He buys the item, receiving it with a thoughtful message about embracing creativity without pressure.
- Post-Action Wearing it, Farid feels freer in his style exploration. He follows the brand for inspiration and continues discovering new trends effortlessly.

Define Project Goals and Objectives

Identify the project's purpose:

- Our website encourages people in pursuit of their vision whether it is big or small, we try to provide people with materialistic possessions that will help them to connect with themselves, others and remind them of what is important to them in the midst of chaos.
- Our audience are teenagers, young adults, and mid-aged people. Of course, some may apply to older people. Generally, people of all kinds have the spark of light within them to achieve something great.
- Interactive experience on our website should be clear, smooth, and simple.

Define broad goals:

- Help people achieve their dreams.
- Driving Customer Loyalty
- Making everyone feel represented and connected
- o Building a community
- Enhancing Shopping Experience
- Offering Style Inspiration

• Translate goals into user-focused objectives:

- Provide clear, high-quality images that will help the user navigate through the website more visually.
- Give the user clear directions and communication using color. (Dividing the content into their own unique color sections.)
- Gain user's trust by showing reviews with images, making the brand feel easier to connect with and more human-made.
- o Provide the user with clear headlines and typography that defines the brand's goals. Showing only what it can give and most importantly how the brand can help the user. Addressing common problems, that will make the user feel like they need something they did not know they needed.
- Creating an emotional connection with customers through consistent quality, engagement, and exceptional customer service, fostering repeat business.
- Creating a sense of belonging for customers through social media engagement, events, and campaigns that encourage user participation and feedback.
- Sharing fashion tips, styling guides, and user-generated content to inspire customers and help them envision how to wear products.

• Draft a value proposition:

 This website will stand out by making a direct emotional human connection to people, by addressing universal problems of every individual. Our website does it in a way that will help people to give directions, and our products will act as small companions along their journey.

To do list:

- o Graphics that characterize the brand
- Great harmony in contrast of the elements, colors (Color Palette)
- Simple and consistent layout of the text and elements to complement each other.
- Define consistent font sizes and use them based on the importance of the content.
- Create interactive buttons and windows to make the website feel less rigid and provide a smooth experience.
- Make sure that the homepage provides a great introduction to existing and new customers and show only the most important information.
- Make sure to base it on a hierarchy and layout of content of websites in general to fit into a muscle memory of the user, making it seamless and more user-friendly.

Inspiration

EDWIN | Japanese Selvedge Denim, Jeans and Clothing

COMME des GARÇONS eSHOP – COMME des GARÇONS Germany

Welcome to UNIQLO | UNIQLO EU

タケオキクチ| ワールドオンラインストア | WORLD ONLINE STORE

UNDERCOVER ONLINE STORE アンダーカバー公式オンラインストア

WTAPS / Official Website

The official ISSEY MIYAKE ONLINE STORE | ISSEY MIYAKE EUROPE

Nike. Just Do It. Nike IE